

RANCH & COAST

Perfect Pairings
Best Restaurants 2012
Wine & Dine Profiles
Romantic Retreats

Editors' Picks

There's so much to love about San Diego's food scene — from hidden hideouts to grand-scale dynamos — here are a few favorites that keep us coming back for more.

Sublime Ale House

My mental carb-counter may say no, but my taste buds scream a resounding yes. Sublime Ale House offers ten savory varieties of Mac & Cheese ranging from Purty (the cherished dish in its truest form) and Fiery (thick and jalapeño) to Infatuation (truffle oil, wild mushroom) and Rapture (Gorgonzola béchamel, bacon, mushrooms, red pepper, garlic, thyme). But it gets even better — fresh bread baked in-house, 50+ taps of craft beer, stellar hot wines, truffled fries. Need I say more? (602)510-9426. www.sublimealehouse.com/ @sublime

Bertrand At Mister A's

Whether you're celebrating a special occasion, entertaining out-of-town guests, or stopping in after a night at the theater, Bertrand At Mister A's tops the list in terms of delectable cuisine paired with breathtaking panoramic views. (619) 299-1372. www.bertrandmisteras.com/ @bertrand

