Prince Harry wouldn't be keeping true to his reputation if he didn't party while in San Diego for Apache military training. Harry will be chilling like a real California boy for two more months at the Naval Air Facility El Centro, the exact location where 'Top Gun' was filmed back in 1986. I wonder what Pippa Middleton thinks of him now.

Seen here, Prince Harry cozies up to a mystery brunette in a dark corner of the V.I.P room at San Diego's Ivy Nightclub. The Prince partied in the club until its 2am closing, moving between the closed off V.I.P bar to his own private balcony in the downstairs nightclub on October 9th. According to Us Weekly, the Prince and his crew drank Absolut vodka while watching a rugby match in their own private cabana. Sounds like Harry is taking that whole 'R&R' advice very seriously.
