- Hours before her big announcement and proposal, Bachelorette-no-longer Ali Fedotowsky pampered herself with a nail appointment. The reality star came into Nail Garden in Burbank, Calif., with one of the show's female producers and got a mani-pedi combo. According to an onlooker, she seemed "very happy and giddy" as she got her French manicure and talked all about the evening's finale.
- Gwen Stefani and Gavin Rossdale took son Kingston out for a stroll on the beach. The happy family stopped by the Malibu Pier, where they lunched at the Beachcomber, before taking a walk along the pier. The famous family was stopped by fans, and graciously signed autographs and snapped photos.
- Just before his big hometown show, Adam Lambert just chilled out at the Andaz San Diego, where the glam rocker met his brother and dad for cocktails at the hotel's Quarter Kitchen bar. And though he's from the Southern California city, the rocker spent the night in one of the hotel's big suites.
- Glee's Mark Salling caused a stir among the ladies as he and his friends made their way to the Colony in L.A. The actor celebrated his first day back on the set of his show at the new nightclub, dancing and ordering cocktails from the bar, while the night before Taye Diggs and six friends took over a table near the dance floor.
